THE K. P. A. AT MAMMOTH CAVE.

If there ever was a time when the poor newspaper men were on top and in clover it was during their meeting at Owensboro and their rounds to complete the delightfully laid out excursion that had been arranged for them. The editor started out with them, as was seen from the last issue, and up to the party's arrival at Mammoth Cave, has given to the I. J. readers a glowing description of the pleasant happenings attendant, as well as the proceedings of business meetings held on the trip. The delight of the entire occasion was too much for him though and he left the merry party on Saturday evening when the cave was reached, thoroughly dazed by the brilliancy of the numerous entertainments that had been given in honor of the members of the K. P. A. The "B. M." who had in the meantime been "holding the bag" at home, was dispatched to hold a like position there and just as the "d. e." was departing he arrived.

There were just 140 in the party when Mammoth Cave was reached and a gayer crowd could not be put together. Of course the older heads were on their dignity, but even they were not sufficiently sanctimonious to prevent the younger members from having the gloriously good time they had set out for and were having. Nine thirty was a little late for supper, but in five minutes after their arrival 140 plates were being filled with Manager Gantner's well-selected supply of provisions including an abundance of that popular dish, fried chicken. The appetites of the quill-drivers and their friends in company were well whetted and the stereotyped expression of "doing ample justice to the good things" was never more appropriate. After supper the ladies, and there were some 40 or 50 in the crowd, repaired to their rooms and exchanged traveling suits for ball-room costumes and in a short while were gliding gracefully over the waxed floors of the Mammoth Cave ball room. The dance lasted right on to Sunday morning when the young people separated to meet at 8 o'clock sharp, for the tramp through the cave. A little wearied from the exertions of the day and night before, most of the party were slow to rise and it was 9 o'clock before the procession left for the "hole in the ground." Every member was on hand at that time though and the party being augmented by other guests numbered 147.

The gentlemen, thoughtless as they usually are, failed to provide themselves with suitable suits for the occasion and had to wear what might be termed their citizens clothes, but the ladies fairly outdressed themselves in beauty of costume. The very brightest colors were selected, cut in loose blouse and "high water skirts" with turbans covering their heads. They were pretty in the ball-room the night before, but not to compare with them at the present. There was less artificiality about them and in fact you could see them more as God had made them than as is usually the case. The married women looked younger, while the sweet-sixteeners made an impression on the younger boys of the press that even the elapsing year between press conventions cannot efface.

Inside the cave, Jasper, the guide, supplied each couple with a lantern and after giving his instructions began imparting his information of the wonders of the immense cavern. To attempt to describe Mammoth Cave would be but a waste of time for there is not a school boy who has not heard of the star chamber, mammoth dome, Echo River, the River Styx, the bottomless pit, fat man's misery, the corkscrew and the thousands of other curiosities that are found there, sufficiently to have formed for himself a good idea of the place, and hence only our trip through will be mentioned. In the first place when the junction of the long and short routes was reached a vote was taken as to which route we would go. The result was that the short route with a short walk in the long was decided upon. The first rest was in the star chamber where the lanterns were disposed of for a few moments and stars like unto those in the firmament could be seen, then the sun, a large red ball, appeared, representing the breaking of day. At this point Mrs. Ion B. Nall sang a solo entitled the "Breaking of Day" which was enjoyed by all and which showed her to be the possessor of an extremely sweet voice. The lanterns were lighted and the walk proceeded with, stopping now and then at some curious and interesting point where Jasper always willingly told what he knew about it. Fat man's misery was reached, and for a solid mile we went half bent, walking in a ditch or trench, not over 2 feet wide between immense walls. The ladies slipped through with little or no trouble, but the men, or most of them experienced, as one of the older gentlemen expressed it, that it was "d-d hard work." "Corkscrew" ascended by ladders and stepping rocks to a point nearly two hundred feet above the base of the cave was even more trying than fat man's misery and many a wearied yawn was given utterance to before the top was reached.

Thus the trip went on, for a while gazing at the wonders of nature and then resting by some of the refreshing springs, partaking of its cool draughts and occasionally interspersing these with a look of love or a word choked full of sweetness to some of the 30 pretty maidens with us. On and on, there seemed no end to it, and a few had begun to tire by the wayside ere the blessed light from Old Sol was seen, but all of a sudden the breeze began to strengthen and a little further on the exit was seen. "Three cheers" went up and in a short while the weary pilgrims were climbing the hill to the hotel, where Bro Gantner had promised a splendid dinner on our return. Nearly seven hours had been spent in the cave and it was then 4 o'clock. Fourteen miles had been marched, but the dinner and a short rest soon counteracted that and by 6 o'clock the porticoes, seats in the yard and hammocks were filled with the "gang," as Col. Craddock spoke of them, chatting merrily on the success and pleasantness of the trip. At 8 o'clock the train left and the convention, the most pleasant one in history was virtually at an end as fully two-thirds left for their various homes. Good-bye, with a hearty shake of the hand, was the popular parting salute and if there was a soul there who did not regret leaving the rest, such a party was not found. The young people and the old people, the middle aged and the married, the black-eyed belles and the youthful beaux had learned to love each other during their several days' sojourn together and it was like breaking the bonds of affection to part with the elegant set of ladies and gentlemen that composed the K. P. A.

SOUVENIRS FROM THE CAVE.

The older unmarried ladies flirted with and wooed the aged Craddock, but deterred him not the least.

Fletcher Marcum shaved off his mustache and very much resembled the ancient Greeks. Even his "sweetheart" failed to recognize him.

The renowned Watterson was exceedingly proud of being made general manager of the "gang," which he denominated the "Salvation Army."

It was generally conceded that the married women were the handsomest and the young ladies the prettiest that have ever made up a party to the cave. There was nothing "short" about the trip, save perhaps in the cutting of the young ladies' cave attire, which of course did not detract from the pleasure of the occasion.

The irresistible Bob Morningstar, of Bowling Green, was always on hand and his tongue, alike that of a woman's—loose at both ends—was never known to be still a moment.

It is thought that at least two weddings will result from the convention. The boys would have displayed mighty poor taste had they not fallen in love with some of the beauties in the crowd.

Edmundson is a "cold-water" county and of course the boys had to substitute that article for the eight-year-old so popular on such occasions. The snakes had everything their way but luckily none of the crowd was bitten.

Fletcher Poynter, of Shelbyville, and Harry McCarty, of Nicholasville, were the recognized lengthy dudes, while Dick Godson, of Midway, and young Stovall, of Elizabethtown, represented the shorter portion of that class.

Misses Marcum and Williamson, of Catlettsburg, Lila Bell, of Georgetown, and Maude Cozine, of Shelbyville, took the prize in the walking and climbing ring. They are equal to a Rocky Mountain deer and were frequently seen 50 yards in advance of their escorts.

John Bartleson, Sr., Killed at Monticello.
(To the Editor Interior Journal.)

PAISLEY, June 10.—Knowing that you have no regular correspondent in this county, I thought I would send you an account of a sad affair which happened in Monticello on Saturday last. John Bartleson, Sr. was having a settlement of a blacksmith account with T. A. Bates at said Bates' shop, when they got into a dispute and not many words passed till Bartleson knocked Bates down with his fist and then Bates' son, Emerson, who was present, picked up an old gun barrel which was lying at hand and struck Bartleson on the head with it. From the effects of the blow he died in 3 or 4 hours. He was buried in the family burying ground by the Masonic brethren after a very appropriate sermon by Rev. Allen Ballou, of the Christian church, of which the deceased was a member.

He leaves a wife and four small children and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his untimely death.

Bates is in jail awaiting an examination.

Jas. McKECHIE, JR., P. M.

—Some idea of the magnitude of the Paris Exposition may be formed from the fact that it was visited Tuesday by 354,000 people, of whom 36,000 ascended the Eiffel tower.

—Wm. Craig, residing in Trimble county, died from hydrophobia. Some one shot a dog belonging to him about a month ago, and while trying to extract the ball the dog bit him.

CRAB ORCHARD

—More rain. "Mud, mud everywhere and not a spot dry enough to plow," says the ancient Farmer.

—The Picnic at Dripping Springs was slimly attended Saturday, but our host, Mr. G. Slaughter, made it very pleasant for those who did go as he certainly knows well how to do.

—The Eureka Light Company, of Louisville, is repairing its lighting apparatus at the Springs, putting in some new additions and promises to keep everything brilliant during the season.

—We learn that Mr. Sam Higgins and mother, who arrived last week from Greenwood, intend abiding with us. We are glad to have such good, clever people move among us. Mr. J. W. James is adding a room to his beautiful cottage. Eld. A. C. Newland is improving and we hope will be out in a few days. Mr. Arthur Wallin, from Salina, Ohio, is visiting his old home near Gum Sulphur.

—Dr. Blair had his fine combined horse killed by a passenger train Tuesday night and being an off day for work Wednesday his funeral (the horse's) was largely attended, with Bros. Redd and Turnbull officiating in the ceremonies. Dr. Blair had just a short time ago purchased this horse and was getting him about trained to suit himself, so the accident disarranges him very much.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bailey returned from Lexington Monday, where they had been to see a doctor in regard to Mrs. Bailey's health, which is feeble. The trip did her no good. Sam Higgins has gone to Greenwood to close up his business preparatory to going in business here. Mr. J. T. Brown, of London, was here Monday. Mr. Armstrong, the pretty drummer from Louisville, spent Tuesday night in Crab Orchard, to the delight of one of our most lovely young ladies.

—Col. Billy O'Bradley, who tried so hard to break into the Cabinet and was put off with the Korean Mission, was here the other day with his coat of pitching quoits with the boys. There is nothing remarkable about Billy. He is a handsome, good-sized man and reminds me much of Rice's trick horse. "Touch him at the right place in the flank and he does his trick well." We are democratic, but we admire the wily republican all the same and are sure there is nothing mean about him but his politics.

—Eld. A. C. Newland took a basket Monday and is very sick again. W. R. Dillion has gone to Mt. Vernon on business. Mr. R. S. Knowles, lumber agent for the L. & N. railroad, was to see the mill men of this place Tuesday. Attorney W. H. Miller and County Attorney Carpenter were attending police court here Tuesday. The court was called to try some special case. Mr. John Edmiston, our police judge, being appointed postmaster to go in July 1st, has resigned the judgeship and our town has to look up another to fill the vacancy. Hope they will get as good a man in as goes out.

—Our handsome J. W. Brooks was home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Livingston and their enormous boy are visiting at Dr. Doores' and the boy is said to cry in German, he is so completely German. Mr. W. F. Francis, the popular sculptor from Richmond, was in town last week and erected a monument in the cemetery for Mrs. Hunn Singleton. It is a handsome piece of work and adds much to the beauty of the cemetery. Mr. J. W. Guest, from Danville, has been on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Moore. Mr. W. N. Haldeman, of the Courier-Journal, and W. T. Grant, of Louisville, made a business trip to Crab Orchard Springs Friday. Hon. and Mrs. John A. Haldeman, of the Louisville Times, are visiting Mrs. Haldeman's father, Mr. John Buchanan. Mrs. Judge Stephen Burch is visiting Mrs. Buchanan also. Mr. R. W. Lillard, representing S. B. Bottom & Co., millers, Lebanon, was white washing our merchants Friday. Biscuits will be plentiful now.

HUBBLE.—Hartwell Luce is attending Conference at Lawrenceburg. S. Hubble and R. L. Hubble bought 30 yearling mules from James E. Lynn for $79.16 per head. Some of our citizens are preparing to start a crock factory here and the demand will be great, unless the wet weather ceases. John Williams is talking of going to Danville to work in the shop. Miss Virgie White will teach our fall school. Millard Bowler is visiting our town now, hunting witnesses in the Rush Branch turpentine case. Millard, you must stay away, as all of our hogs run off when you appear on official duty. Wesley Eubanks has been quite sick for some days. Mr. Wallace Walter was down Wednesday to see how high the Hanging Fork was. Wm. Hubble sold some yearling steers to Wood for $18. Tom Fish and Eph Engleman caught 300 fish with a hook in Hanging Fork Saturday. J. W. Bright has purchased a cultivator and broad-caster, manufactured in Michigan.

—The whole Boyle family, consisting of mother, daughter and two sons, were sent to the lunatic asylum from Louisville this week.

M. SALINGER, Manager.

In Memory of Thomas M. Ball,
Who departed this life on the first day of June, at 11:30 A. M., 1889.

He was born in Garrard county, where he spent his childhood; the rest of his life in Lincoln county. He married Miss Sally J. Pepples, one of the most industrious, honorable, high-toned ladies of the land, and a better mother to her children cannot be found. They have toiled through this hard world together 50-odd years. He was a man of deep thought and many sound lessons did he give his children. On his dying bed he called us around him and spoke thus, which were his last words: "That there was a time for all things, a time to live and a time to die. God brought us into this world without our consent or will of our own, and would take us away the same. Oh! love, that sweet, short word. Without love there is no real friendship. Without love there is no Heaven, for Heaven is the essence of love. God is love and those who dwell in God dwell in love. I am at rest and don't weep for me. May God be a lamp to your feet and an anchor to your soul, sure and steadfast. May your peace be like a river and your righteousness as the waves of the sea. May God guide your feet in that straight way that leadeth to eternal life and through that narrow, pearly gate, into the Holy City, and there may you and I be counted worthy to sit down with Abraham and Isaac."

Those were his last words, and he closed his eyes and died without a murmur. May his memory rest with his many friends and may this country furnish many men like him. Religious, industrious, honest and loved by all who knew him.

FATHER IS RESTING.
The long, rough road is ended,
His weary feet have pressed;
How rough to his weak footsteps,
Perhaps we never guessed;
But with the weary journey
He will be no more distressed,
The face we bend to softly kiss
Bears no imprint but of bliss.

We know that many pages,
Within the book of years,
He has pursued with anguish,
Amid his falling tears;
That partings, change and doubtings,
Have caused him many fears,
Forgotten now, each pang of woe,
No grief again his soul will know.

We gaze at his dear features,
Within the casket bound,
And think that he is dwelling
Where changeless peace is found;
That there no painful partings
His loving heart will wound
And, weeping for him, loved and gone,
We gather strength and walk alone.

Along the way before us,
Whither we do not know,
It may be strewn with blessings
And pleasures we may know,
Or thickly set with dangers,
May bring us naught but woe;
Yet over life's pathway he has come
At last into his heavenly home.

As Ever an Affectionate Son,
THOS. C. BALL.

The Pride of Woman.

A clear, healthy and transparent skin is always a sign of pure blood, and all persons troubled with dark, greasy, yellow or blotched skin can rest assured that their blood is out of order. A few doses of Beger's Food Purifier & Blood Maker will remove the cause and the skin will become clear and transparent. Try it, and if satisfaction is not given it will cost you nothing. It is fully warranted. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

W. P. WALTON.

The "paralyzing effect of two bits," as Bro. Barnes expresses it, was more plainly shown in the rich capital of the bluegrass than anywhere else, to its shame be it said. The Lexington papers say that at Bro. Barnes' service at Chautauqua Tabernacle last Sunday afternoon more people gathered to hear him preach than were at all the churches in the city combined at the morning service, but when he arose to lecture Monday night to raise money to help him pay the government for the homesteads he has taken up on Sanibel Island, a beggarly array of empty benches and 50 persons greeted him. This too in a town where he had labored months to show the sinner what a loving Savior he had found and how easy it is to come unto Him and live. As a friend and supporter of the good evangelist, we are surprised and mortified that these things should be in rich and aristocratic Lexington. But those who fail to hear the lectures are the losers and are to be pitied more than censured. Common courtesy, however, to say nothing of obligation, ought to induce everyone, who hears him preach for nothing, to listen to his lecture when the charge is but the insignificant sum of 25 cents.

The American Execution, Co., of Chicago, with a capital of $100,000, has been organized, the purposes of which are to execute criminals in a humane and aesthetical manner for a handsome consideration. This country has long needed a public executioner, who knows how to dispatch criminals with neatness and certainty. The average sheriff who is called on to perform the work usually has had no experience and he goes at the job with main strength and awkwardness, often succeeding in torturing the victim and making a botch of the business generally. The Execution Co. ought to fill a long-felt want.

An enterprising paper at Little Rock, Ark., offered a prize for the man who could show the largest family. Mr. Green from Pike county took it with his first wife and 18 children. During the 44 years of their married life, the union was blessed (?) with 23 children, all but five of whom are living. If Mr. Green has obeyed all the other commands of the Bible as closely as he has the one to increase and multiply, the plaudit "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter into the joy that awaits thee!" will greet him.

JUDGE DURHAM acknowledges in an interview with the Louisville Times that he would be proud to wind up his public career as chief executive of Kentucky, but he is not prepared yet to announce his candidacy. He will fully advise with the friends, who are so anxious for him to run and if he can secure the nomination without scramble or trickery, he will make the race to win. The judge has served the State and Nation well and deserves a parting tribute to his worth. This section, at least, will be practically solid for him.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's resources are unlimited and its management is equal to any occasion. Although 10 miles of its road along the Conemaugh river and hundreds of bridges and other property were swept away by the flood, entailing a loss of $13,000,000, the line was in running order in little over a week and passengers were being carried on time. The Pennsylvania is the wealthiest corporation of the kind in the country. Its annual earnings are $56,000,000.

Another republican has gone wrong. Morris C. Baun, secretary of the Republican Committee at San Francisco, revelled in the charms of women, wine and cards, and is now a fugitive from home and friends, with forgeries and debts to the amount of $21,000 against him. They all do it when they get a chance and then roll up their eyes in holy horror because Dick Tate broke the good record of his party by going astray.

The would-be collectors realize with great force that "to-morrow never comes." It has been steadily telegraphed from Washington for a month that the appointments would be made to-morrow and still it is the same old story. If a bone is not thrown out soon all the republicans who do not starve to death will be found voting the democratic ticket in August.

The first day's work of the lady who was elected mayor of a Kansas town embraced the firing of a man for drunkenness, making two gingham aprons, setting a hen and returning five calls, besides attending to other household duties. Who will say after this that women are not equal to every occasion and emergency?

GEN. DRUM, who has just retired on account of age from the army, was the first man who ever attained the rank of general, who went into the army as a private. Such a thing is possible in no other country and would not be in this if the West Pointers and other cadets had the monopoly of the law-making powers.

The jury in the coroner's inquest of the murder of Dr. Cronin at Chicago, created a sensation by charging that Alexander Sullivan, ex-president of the Irish National League in America, Daniel Coughlin, P. Sullivan and one Woodruff alias Black, were either principals, accessories or had guilty knowledge of the plot to murder Dr. Cronin and conceal his body. They were immediately placed in murderers' row in the jail. The jury further believes that other persons were engaged in the plot and that in its judgment all secret societies whose objects are such as the evidence shows that of the Clan-na-Gael, or United Brotherhood, to be, are not in harmony with and are injurious to American institutions.

The New York Sun finds that the 13 Southern States, including Kentucky and Missouri, have funded debts aggregating $95,858,643, besides an unfunded debt amounting to $20,000,000 more. Of these States Kentucky alone has a sinking fund, and in her case it nearly covers the small indebtedness of $674,000. Three-quarters of the debt of Texas and about the whole of Mississippi's are due to the school funds of those States, so that the net debt is insignificant in each case. The remaining 25 States, comprising all those of the North, Northwest and the Pacific Slope, owe less than $48,000,000, funded and unfunded, if the amounts in the several sinking funds are subtracted from the nominal aggregate.

A CHICAGO man has just been granted a divorce because his wife took to pet dogs more than to him and her family duties. The judge who rendered the decision was a man of anagorisy, for of all the disgusting sights to a man of sensibilities, the one of a woman kissing and fondling a nasty little poodle takes the cake. Beware young women, or you may have to choose between a dog and a husband.

ALLEN THURMAN is not as popular in Ohio as his honored father whose statesmanship he inherits in but small degree. He is a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, but as his competitor, James Campbell, carried his own county over him, Allen's prospects are as old Billy Allen used to express it, "a d--n barren ideality."

THERE is no reconstruction about Gen. Jubal Early. He is of the same opinion he was 30 years ago and said in a speech the other day: "If ever I repudiate, disown or apologize for the cause for which Lee fought and Jackson died, may the lightning of heaven blast me and the scorn of all good women and true men be my portion."

The Pulaski Enterprise, edited by Captain S. M. Boone and C. E. Colyer has been sold to the Hornet and will be merged into it. The Boone Bros. are the editors and proprietors and they get a breezy and spicy sheet, and lay completely in the shade their competitors when typographic appearance is considered.

The republican committee declined to make a nomination for State treasurer and called a convention to meet at Lexington on the glorious fourth of July. There seems to be much ado about nothing in this matter.

Echoes From the Press Association.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sommers, of Elizabethtown, were too worn out to be taken in by the cave, so went home Saturday night. Mrs. Sommers is a sister of Mrs. J. S. Grimes and like her is a very handsome and pleasant lady.

French Tipton, of Richmond, was there with his bonnie bride, both looking extremely happy. The only thing that seemed to disturb his mind was advertising rates, upon which question he averred he could get no two opinions.

Mr. G. S. Rosser, of the Maysville Bulletin, although nearly four-score and ten, was the youngest man in the lot. He was always up to some prank and on one occasion nearly succeeded in getting a number of ladies tipsy by "spiking" the lemonade he prepared for them.

Messrs. A. Y. Ford and C. C. Givens, of the Owensboro Inquirer, are taking things easy in regard to Hewitt's libel suit. Uncle Ben Harrison, our beloved treasurer, has been ordered to pay the judgment, no matter what it is, and all the legal bar have volunteered in their behalf.

C. M. Grubbs, of Winchester, was there taking notes of how the thing is done and seeing what will be expected of his town next year. Winchester isn't more than a fourth as large as Owensboro, but she is a very ambitious youngster and promises to be equal to the occasion.

Mr. H. W. Wheeler and his charming little wife, of Owensboro, accompanied the editors to the cave and added their full quota to the enjoyment of the trip. Mrs. Wheeler is a native of Hartford, Conn., and if she is a fair specimen of the product of the Nutmeg State, Kentucky will have to look to her laurels for pretty women.

To show the editors how quickly the fire company could respond to an alarm, one was turned on at the theatre and before the crowd could get out the ladders were on hand throwing a stream of water 200 feet high and fighting an imaginary fire with a vengeance. They had come several squares with their engine and hose wagon and it was stated that they knew nothing of the plan to test their efficiency.

Among the numerous newspaper men "against whose old bones we were happy to rub our old bones" at Owensboro was Mr. Cicero T. Sutton, the silent toiler of the Messenger, whom we had long known journalistically, but not personally till then. He is a capital all around newspaper man and his graphic reports of the sessions of the association, show that Col. Woodson has an assistant who is an assistant.

—Capt. John Ludwick, a prominent and prosperous farmer of Mercer county, died of apoplexy. He leaves a family of ten grown daughters, eight of whom are married. His wife died seven months since.

—All the railroads will give reduced rates to the Kentucky Music Teachers' Association, which meets in Louisville June 26-28, and there will be no charge to any of the six magnificent concerts on the programme.

—W. H. McClure succeeds W. T. Humphrey as postmaster at Humphrey; Mrs. C. E. Carron takes J. C. Thomas' place at Philadelphia and W. L. Pearce ousts F. M. Taylor at Yosemite. All these offices are in Casey.

—James D. Black, Grand Master of Masons in Kentucky, has issued a circular letter addressed to all the Masonic lodges of the State, recommending that collections be taken up at once for the benefit of the Johnstown sufferers.

—The State Teachers' Annual Association will be held at Winchester June 26, 27, 28, 1889. All railroads in the State will give reduced fare to the association; but those attending must procure certificates from agents from whom tickets are purchased.

—Wm. Kemmler's execution by electricity has been postponed without date on an appeal by his lawyer, who will test the authority of the State of New York to put Kemmler to death by the electric method. He will also apply for a writ of habeas corpus.

—Gov. Beaver, of Pennsylvania, proposes to borrow $1,000,000 from the State Treasury with which to remove the debris and improve the sanitary condition of the flooded district, the money to be replaced by the citizens of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia should the Legislature refuse to appropriate the necessary amount when it meets.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Atlanta is enjoying the first water-melons of the season.

—Good saddle horse for sale. A. W. Carpenter, Milledgeville.

—C. M. Jones bought of Cy Ware a lot of young steers at $10 to $11.50.

—James Meddis, of Anderson, bought of E. A. White a combined mare for $190.

—A Tennessee mare has immortalized herself by giving birth to triplet mules, all alive.

—C. T. Sandidge sold to Ed Powell, of Peoria, Ill., a pair of combined geldings for $300.

—Kentucky raises 300,000,000 pounds of tobacco every year, half of the crop of the United States.

—R. S. Sharp, of Woodford, bought in this section a large bunch of young mules at $90 to $100.

—The Philadelphia market is completely glutted with strawberries. They go begging at 3 cts. a quart.

—Wanted at once, a lot of cattle on 70 acres of first-class grass. Good water and shade. Stephen Burch, 3t.

—Walker & Doty, of Lancaster, have bought in the last few days several horses for their stable at $135 to $150.

—Col. W. E. Simms, of Bourbon county, sold 150,000 pounds of his last year's crop of tobacco to Stephen & Siple, Ripley, O., at 8 to 10 cents.

—The late frosts have done much damage in the North. In Western New York the injury to fruit and vegetables is the greatest for 50 years.

—For Sale, privately, my farm of 150 acres, just north of McKinney Station. Address or call on A. C. Dunn, at McKinney or B. Vanarsdale, at Stanford.

—With both Spokane and Knott out of the way the majority of turfmen think Fresno has the best chance of winning the Chicago Derby on the 22d. He is by Falsetto and inherits many of the traits of his great sire.

—Maj. H. A. Evans contributes an article on the little bug, which is now disturbing the wheat growers. The farmers agree with the major that the insect has so far proved harmless. Fly and rust are doing much damage, however, in localities, but the general outlook for wheat in this county is fair.

—E. W. Lee purchased Mark Wakefield's half interest in the livery stable-building now occupied by Wakefield & Lee. Our farmers are indeed having a hard time with their wheat crops this season. In the first place the Hessian fly took hold; next the wheat louse; and now in those fields near town the English sparrows are in it by the hundreds, though what damage they are doing we cannot say. All the wheat in the country is full of rust and smut. It looks very much like the crop will be a dismal failure this year.—Danville Advocate.

PERSONAL POINTS.

MR. WESLEY EUBANKS is very sick. Miss ELIZA SUTTON is visiting in Danville.

HON. JOHN S. OWSELEY went to Louisville Tuesday.

MR. AND MRS. E. G. WALLER have removed to Corbin.

A. T. NUNNELLEY is confined to his room by sickness.

J. NEW CRAIG, JR., arrived yesterday in time for the Hop.

MISS MAUD SLOAN, of Somerset, is the guest of Miss Annie Hale.

MISS EMMA MAHAN, of Danville, is visiting Miss Annie Straub.

MESSRS. A. S. MYERS and C. A. COX are fishing in Knox county.

MISS MAGGIE SWINERBROOK, of Hubble, is visiting Miss Mary Bright.

MISS MARY DEDDERAR is visiting Miss Lottie Dillion at Crab Orchard.

MISS JEAN BUCHANAN, of Crab Orchard, is the guest of Mrs. A. A. McKinney.

MRS. POCA COURTS left yesterday to spend sometime at her home in Greensburg.

MR. RICHARD TALBOT, of Paris, has been visiting his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McKinney.

MRS. S. C. TRUEHEART, of Millersburg, arrived yesterday to spend a few weeks with her brother.

MR. HERVEY HELM attended the commencement exercises of his Alma Mater, Central University.

MISS EMMA FIELDS, teacher of vocal music at Daughters College, is the guest of Mrs. S. S. Myers.

PROF. D. W. BATSON, president of the Millersburg male school, is spending a few days with Mr. S. S. Myers.

ELD. JOS. BALLOU went to Somerset Tuesday to attend Miss Ellen's concert, which closed the school year.

MR. W. N. POTTS has been attending the Miller's Convention at Lexington and the Methodist Conference.

MISS PATTIE TRIBLE, of Junction City, was the guest of her cousin, W. A. Tribble, and attended the hop last night.

MISS IRENE DILLON and Maggie Buchanan, of Crab Orchard, arrived yesterday and attended the hop last night.

MR. AND MRS. W. M. BRIGHT and Miss Mary McKinney are visiting in Richmond during the commencement exercises.

MISS SALLIE ELKIN passed through to her home in Garrard Wednesday, on her return from a two months' stay at LaGrange.

MISS MOLLIE FIFE, Annie White and Mamie Patterson, a trio of Richmond beauties, have been with Miss Kate Hall several days.

MRS. DR. MORRIS EVANS and Miss Mary McAfee have been attending the Women's Missionary Society in session at Millersburg.

GUS SEIBERT'S Orchestra, including the popular W. G. Carroll, arrived on yesterday's train to make music for the merry hoppers last night.

DR. J. F. PEYTON went to Lebanon Junction Wednesday morning and cut the ball out of Capt. Hocker's ankle. He reports him in a bad condition.

TO THE great regret of the young people, Miss Helen Sautley was called back to Knoxville and was not present at the hop, partly in her honor.

D. KLAAS has located at Greensburg Ind., and is letting the people know of it in pages of newspaper advertisements and free open-air concerts. With his methods of doing business he is bound to succeed.

MRS. EUGENIA DUNLAP POTTS, of New York, was here Wednesday en route to Lexington, after a visit to her old home at Lancaster, looking as bright and as handsome as she did when we last saw her 10 years ago.

MISS LETTIE HELM, who has been stenographer at the Proctor Mines, Newcomb, Tenn., arrived Wednesday looking fresh and hearty after her six months' stay in the mountains.

GEN. W. J. LANDRAM and son-in-law, Wood Dunlap, passed down to Louisville Wednesday to nominate a candidate for State Treasurer. The latter seems to be willing that the lightning should strike him.

J. B. PAXTON, Esq., delivered an address before the Alumni Association of Central University on Foreign Immigration, which was highly complimented for its literary excellence and general evidence of close study of the question. He took strong grounds for a restriction and improvement of the class of foreigners who shall come to us.

CITY AND VICINITY.

MILLINERY at cost. Courts & Cox.

ICE CREAM and milk shake at R. Zimmerman's.

ONE of the new republican clerks signaled his presence by throwing off the wrong mail sack here Wednesday.

WIRE screens for doors and window at Sine & Menefee's.

SCYTHS, snaths, cream freezers, water-coolers at T. R. Walton's.

CALL at our store and get binder twine and machine oil. Metcalf & Foster.

WE will begin to-day to sell out our entire stock of millinery at cost. Call and get bargains. Courts & Cox.

THE prohibitionists will meet in convention here at 2 o'clock to-morrow upon the call of Chairman John O. Neal.

THE tax books for 1889 are now ready. Everybody will please come forward and pay his taxes at once. T. D. Newland, Sheriff.

SOME ten or more couples of young people stormed Miss Jeanie Feland Wednesday evening and had a very delightful time.

FRUIT JARS, Tin Cans, Porcelain Kettles, Jelly Glasses and everything necessary for canning on hand at A. A. Warren's "Model Grocery."

MR. I. M. BRUCE has nearly completed another neat little cottage in the lower end of town. At the rate he is going he will soon own as many houses as Dr. Peyton.

NUMEROUS pretty girls have been arriving all the week to grace the Merry Bachelors' Hop last night with their presence. Everything pointed to a grand and glorious time when we went to press.

THERE will be a union Sunday-school picnic on the Crab Orchard pike at W. H. Miller's place June 22. There will be speaking, vocal and instrumental music, and all are invited to come with baskets well filled, as a pleasant, nice time is anticipated.

A SPECIAL TRAIN will pass here to-morrow in charge of Col. John H. Milliken, loaded with members of the Louisville Passenger and Ticket Agents' Association for Pineville and Cumberland Gap. The L. & N., with its usual liberality, "sets 'em up."

THE Rush Branch Turnpike had Mr. Steve Owsley up for forcing his way through a toll gate, but upon the trial of the case here this week it was found that he was as much a director of the road as any of the claimants, and had a right to pass free. The business of the pike seems to be in a decidedly mixed up condition.

HELD TO COURT.—William Plummer, a white youth, was tried here Tuesday for stealing a check from Nicholas Becker amounting to $19 and held over till circuit court in a $300 bond which he failed to give. Plummer claims that he found the check, but the proof showed that he had slipped the check out of Becker's pocket or cash drawer.

THE Livingston Coal Mining Co., managed by Mr. Wm. Sharpe, is forging ahead with 50 hands and a good plant. Mr. Sharpe was here Wednesday and told us that the company is preparing to spread itself into a new territory in addition to its present location. The company is composed of officers of the Kentucky Central and they are monied as well as enterprising men.

SOME miscreant shot into the house of Mr. J. B. Higgins a few nights ago and the bullet went into one of the bed rooms. Fortunately nobody was sleeping in the room and no damage save the breaking of window glass was done. Mr. Higgins has an idea of the guilty party and will prosecute him to the full extent when he is positive that he is on the right track. A person mean enough to do such a thing should be tarred and feathered and we trust he will be made to pay heavily for his malicious act.

JUDGE CARSON fined Bob Whitley, Ed Brown and Jim Tall each $10 for disorderly conduct towards a negro man named Rigney, whom they "ran" and who charged that they also robbed him of $2. The latter was, however, not sustained. The men say that Rigney was acting as a walking bar-room, when they conceived the idea of having some fun with him. They told him that young Lackey, who wears military clothes, was a detective after him, and the old man came near running himself to death. His story is different, or Ed Brown and Jim Tall would not now be in jail and Bob Whitley minus $10.

A GOOD LESSON.—Three miserable specimens of humanity traveling in a covered wagon drawn by two mules refused to pay toll at Mrs. McAfee's gate, because they thought she couldn't make them, and drove through. But Mrs. McAfee knows her business as well as the next one and being unable to cope with the rascals, she went at once to Judge T. L. Shelton and demanded a writ for their arrest. This was given and placed in the hands of Marshal Payne, who succeeded in catching the scamps beyond Crab Orchard. At first they positively refused to come back, but Mr. Payne told them if they did not turn around he would take the team in hand. Seeing that he meant business they right about faced and drove slowly and sadly back a mile or two, when they begged to be let off with the payment of $6 and were allowed to resume their travel. It was a pretty costly lesson, but Mrs. McAfee will teach it to them every time they try to swindle the Stanford & Crab Orchard turnpike.

ANOTHER heavy rain yesterday and every day for two weeks, and the thing is getting serious.

TWINE for binders and a number of brand new buggies for sale cheap. Call early and take first choice of the buggies. I. M. Bruce.

NO ARMS.—Mrs. Joe Eubanks, who was a witness in court this week, brought her five-year old boy with her, who is remarkable from the fact that he was born without arms and uses his feet in place of hands. He seems to be a bright little fellow and is perfect in form otherwise.

THE proprietor of Rock Castle Springs suggests that the location is in Pulaski, outside of Judge Boyd's domain, and that a coach and four will meet us at Somerset any time we suggest. All right, we are going to Rock Castle if we have to do so in disguise or call on Governor Buckner for troops for protection.

THE Superior Court has affirmed the decision of the Lincoln Circuit Court, giving Mrs. Judge Higgins $500 damages against the town of Crab Orchard for permitting a mob to burn a house belonging to her. The case has been to the courts of appeal three times. The Cincinnati Southern vs Gover was also affirmed.

THE leading prohibitionists met in caucus here Wednesday afternoon and decided, we learn, to nominate Eld. J. Q. Montgomery for the legislature, notwithstanding preachers are ineligible under our constitution for such office. They say they are unalterably opposed to any man who advocates a resubmission of the prohibition law to the voters and intend to express their opinion at the polls against all such and especially against the man whom they claim has overriden the law in granting license to drug stores, and if peradventure they elect their man he will be instructed to have a law passed especially to prevent license of any kind, including drug stores, to be issued to anybody for any purpose. If these good gentlemen had the county in a sling and could do as they propose it would all be very well, but we believe if they would give Mr. Warren's proposition a calm consideration they would be forced to admit that it would be best for them to accept it and give him their hearty support. He is against the repeal of the law and only desires to make it conform with the general local option act. The prohibitionist who is so afraid of a second vote, shows that he is doubtful of their ability to adopt it again and would continue to attempt to enforce an unpopular law. We do not say, understand, that it is not popular, but that would seem to be the idea of all who are fearful of a resubmission. Mr. D. W. Vandever's platform ought to be adopted by all prohibitionists. He said in his speech court day: "I voted for the prohibition law and I will do it again, but I am a democrat first, last and all the time and am not afraid of letting the people vote as many times as they want on the prohibition or any other law. The democratic party believes in local self government and I'm against taking that right from the people."

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Nath Woodcock's latest conundrum is: I met two beggars and gave one of them 10 cents and the other 15, what time was it? Answer: A quarter to two.

—A few days of sunshine now would make the wheat about ready for the sickle. Some farmers say they do not expect more than 10 bushels per acre.

—All the churches last Sunday asked their congregations for a contribution to go towards the relief of the Johnstown sufferers. All gave something which will be forwarded immediately.

—It is more than probable that Danville will get the machine shops of the C. S. railroad, which are located at Somerset at present. The company owns 40 acres of ground near the depot, which is not doing them any good and besides this seems to be a good location.

—Capt. Posey, of the engineering corps, who have been surveying a prospective railroad line from Lebanon to Harrodsburg, was in town Tuesday. They have recently surveyed a line touching the C. S. at this place. Mr. P. is of the opinion the road will be built to Lancaster and will either come by Danville or Burgin.

—An entertainment Tuesday night closed Miss Lily Morrison's school. Recitations, songs, etc. composed the enjoyment of the evening. It is useless to say everyone came away much pleased and praises were showered on both teacher and pupils. The pupils demonstrated that they had been well instructed. Mrs. Duke's school closed to-night, Thursday, with an entertainment at the Opera House.

—The Kentucky Division of the American League Wheelman held their annual meeting at this place Monday. About 30 were present, Louisville, Covington, Richmond, Nicholasville and other places being represented. A. J. Lamb, of Louisville, was elected Chief Consul for the ensuing year. The date and place of the next meeting is Louisville, June 23, 1890. They attracted a great deal of attention on the streets Monday. During the day they had a photograph of the league taken. They disbanded Tuesday morning and started for their homes.

—J. W. Proctor is attending the General Conference of the Methodist Church South at Lawrenceburg, having been sent at a delegate from this place. Richard Dunlap, of Kansas City, is visiting his brother, Dr. Fayette Dunlap. W. F. Crist and wife are at Mr. Baridans, Gilcher House. Mr. C. has been in the hotel business at Barboursville for some time, but has recently severed his business connections at that place. Rev. B. B. VanNuy and wife are here for a few days. They are on their way to New Jersey, their old home. They have been working for the Master in the mountains for some years. Mrs. VanNuy's health is much impaired and is being treated by Dr. Johnson before starting on the trip. Miss Eva White, of Massachusetts, is visiting her cousin, Miss Sallie Mahan, on Walnut street. Miss Higgins, of Crab Orchard, is the guest of Miss Jeanie Goggin; Miss Hattie Shumate is visiting many relatives and friends in Garrard; the Misses Hudson, of Louisville, are visiting Misses Jennie and Lizzie Salter, on Lexington street.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Warman Bros. will shortly locate a saw mill at Level Green.

—Married, at Livingston, Thursday, Will Moberly to Miss Lina Murray.

—A huge rattlesnake, with 19 rattles was killed on Brush Creek a few days since.

—John Williams did the wire work at the depot here while the agent was off at Owensboro.

—The Mammoth Cave guide book has a fine description of the big salt etre cave in this county.

—Sinks is fast regaining its reputation as a place of peace and quietude—in a horn—several of them.

—M. J. Finnegan, W. L. Martin and O. P. Bond have been appointed trustees of the town of Livingston.

—Mrs. G. D. Cook and Tifford Durham have each made application for the Livingston postoffice, with the chances in favor of the former.

—William Sloan started home from town Monday with 60 pounds of bacon; when he reached home his meat was gone. He says he wasn't drunk.

—James N. Whitehead, aged 48, died at his father's home in this county Monday morning of Bright's disease. Mrs. John Luty, aged 35, died last Wednesday of consumption, after a long illness.

—An inter-denominational Sunday-school convention will be held at Gum Sulphur to-morrow, Saturday, June 15. All of the schools of the county are invited. Arrangements have been made to have the south-bound express stop there that night to pick up passengers.

—Some of the boys made a raid on Vina Doon's house at Gillsburg, near Pine Hill one night last week and entered by the back door, after tearing off the roof. A number of them while climbing over fell into the house, scaring the inmates, who fled into the woods. A sweet mess of them all around.

—Miss May Adams has returned from an extended visit to Louisville and Owensboro. Mrs. W. H. Spradlin, of Birmingham, Ala., accompanied by Miss Maggie Spradlin, a lovely young lady of Gallatin, Tenn., are visiting in this county. Dr. W. A. Brown, of Parksville, was here during the week. R. L. Newcomb, for some years telegraphing in Texas, is at home on a visit. J. H. Albright, of Brodhead, with his little son, was in town Wednesday. Mrs. L. B. Adams, who has been quite sick for several days, is, we are glad to say, much better.

If you buy a McCormack REAPER or MOWER you are certain to get one of the best Machines made.

If you buy a McCormack Machine you can depend on getting repairs when wanted, without delay or vexation, which is one of the most important objects to consider when selecting a Reaper or Mower; no mistake about it.

The McCormack Machine Co. have always been in the lead of their competitors in the manufacture of Twine Binders, and with their Improved No. 4 and Big Four Mowers they have a line of Machines second to none.

By all means, see these Machines before you make your selection for the coming harvest.
